KNIGHT OF THE MONTH

This month I would like recognize a job done well by a member who has taken up the call to be more active. When the Council Golf tournament that has been in July for many years was not on the schedule he got together a few members and put on the event. Like many events someone just needs to take up the challenge and with a little help you can an event that many members enjoy. This is not the only thing this member has done he has helped with other events and has taken up the job as the Advocate for this year. Congratulations Jim Savarese for being this month's Knight of the Month.

FAMILY OF THE MONTH

Any of you who have joined us for the dinners at the Council Home will agree that this family has given their time and have made all those who have come to enjoy a meal feel like a guest of their home. Sometime we forget that if were not for those members and their families giving of their time and effort we would not enjoy many of the things that we have here at E.D.W. Congratulations to Doug and Ellen Cunningham for being the family of the month for October.

Knight Life is published monthly by the Edward Douglass White Council #2473, Knights of Columbus. 5115 Little Falls Road, Arlington, VA 22207-1899. ## GRAND KNIGHT'S MESSAGE

The month of October has been marked for a membership drive for the last few years and if we each take the time to ask one or two Catholic men to join we will have a very good recruitment. We always get a good number of new members in the spring in part due to the pools and camp but we need to do a better job of letting other Catholic men who might not know about what the Knights of Columbus is all about be better informed. Sometimes the work we do for the church goes unnoticed by many but we are there to help our parishes with any task that they may have. Please make an effort to bring a new member in and help them get involved. Too many times over the years the sponsor for a new member has not done their part. As a sponsor you should be there to answer any questions a new member may have and you should be there for his degrees.

As I sat down to write this article many of my thoughts were of the disaster that resulted from hurricane Katrina. Many of our members have family and friends that have been affected by this disaster and I pray that the Lord will be with them and all those many relief workers who will be working for many months just to get some of the most basic needs for so many taken care of. With this in mind I am asking our members to help the relief. The Knights of Columbus Supreme Council has announced the largest disaster relief effort in its history. The Order has pledged a minimum of $2.5 million in financial assistance and will match any funds beyond that donated to the Knights of Columbus Katrina Relief Fund over the 60 days from 9/2/2005. With this in mind I am asking each member to give whatever they can. You can send checks to the Council office or bring them to the Council Home mark for Hurricane Katrina Relief.

Vivat Jesus

RIGHT TO LIFE NEWS

By Bill Johnson

Brother Knights, the following article was first printed in the April, 2005 issue of First Things:

Everybody who has been involved in one way or another in arguments over abortion policy, and that must be just about everybody over the age of reason, can probably recall a moment or moments that decisively shaped their thinking on the matter. The following is from a collection of essays by Richard Selzer, Moral Lessons: Notes on the Art of Surgery: "In our city, garbage is collected early in the morning. Sometimes the bang of the cans and the grind of the trucks awaken us before our time. We are resentful, mutter into our pillows, then go back to sleep. On the morning of August 6, 1975, the people of 73rd Street near Woodside Avenue do just that. When at last they rise from their beds, dress, eat breakfast, and leave their houses for work, they have forgotten, if they had ever known, that the garbage truck had passed earlier that morning. The event has slipped into unmemory, like a dream. They close their doors and descend to the pavement. It is midsummer. You measure the climate, decide how you feel in relation to the heat and humidity. You walk toward the bus stop. Others, your neighbors, are waiting there. It is all so familiar. All at once you step on something soft. You feel it with your foot. Even through your shoe you have the sense of something unusual, something marked by a special 'give.' It is foreignness upon the pavement. Instinct pulls your foot away in an awkward little movement. You look down, and you see . . . a tiny naked body, its arms and legs flung apart, its head thrown back, its mouth agape, its face serious. A bird, you think, fallen from its nest. But there is no nest here on 73rd Street, no bird so big. It is rubber, then. A model . . . joke. Yes, that's it, a joke. And you bend to see. Because you must. And it is no joke. Such a gray softness can be but one thing. It is a baby, and dead. You cover your mouth, your eyes. You are fixed. Horror has found its chink and crawled in, and you will never be the same as you were. Years later you will step from a sidewalk to a lawn, and you will start at its softness, and think of that upon which you have just trod. Now you look about; another man has seen it too. 'My God,' he whispers. . . . There is a cry. 'Here's another!' and 'Another!' and 'Another.' . . . Later, at the police station, the investigation is brisk, conclusive. It is the hospital director speaking. 'Fetuses accidentally got mixed up with the hospital rubbish . . . were picked up at approximately 8:15 am by a sanitation truck. Somehow, the plastic lab bag, labeled hazardous material, fell off the back of the truck and broke open. No, it is not known how the fetuses got in the orange plastic bag labeled hazardous material. It is a freak accident.' The hospital director wants you to know that it is not an everyday occurrence. Once in a lifetime, he says. But you have seen it, and what are his words to you now? He grows affable, familiar, tells you that, by mistake, the fetuses got mixed up with the other debris. (Yes, he says other, he says debris.) He has spent the entire day, he says, trying to figure out how it happened. He wants you to know that. Somehow it matters to him. He goes on: aborted fetuses that weigh one pound or less are incinerated. Those weighing over one pound are buried at the city cemetery. He says this. Now you see. It is orderly. It is sensible. The world is not mad. This is still a civilized society. . . . But just this once, you know it isn't. You saw, and you know."

"I call heaven and earth to witness against you this day, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and curse; therefore choose life, that you and your descendants may live." Deuteronomy 30:19
